Product Range

Established in Cambridge in 1894, Luke Eyres was one of the first companies to manufacture traditional college scarves in the UK. The founder of the company, Mr D Eyres, is considered to be one of the pioneers of the first woven college scarf for Cambridge University.

Since then, the company has been carefully preserving original methods of manufacturing, whilst working with contemporary materials and finishes. Developments in the fashion market have led to Luke Eyres producing college style scarves for fashion houses in the UK and abroad, including such names as Burberry, Christian Dior and Paul Smith.

All our scarves are manufactured and hand-finished in our factory, using the best of British craftsmanship and traditions.

High quality embroidery can be applied to the scarves to show your name, logo or any special message.

Our in-house range comprises authentic college style scarves made from traditional Saxony wool, cotton, micro fleece, and a combination of wool and fleece materials. Using our extensive knowledge and expertise, we can help to design a new scarf for you, whilst also offering a full range of Cut-Make-and-Trim services for specialised orders.
